Our sessions start on the hour, with the half-hour safety briefing and harnessing. Entry into the arena is at half past the hour, for 60 minutes of climbing, the the last few moments of which are used to unharness the climbers.

If you want to hire the entire venue for a session, and want complete privacy, you will need to hire the session before and the session after as well, to ensure you don't arrive during the previous session's arena time, nor have the next session arrive for their safety briefing during the last half hour of your arena time.
